Brighton & Hove City Council

Council

Agenda Item 73

Subject: Written questions from members of the public.

Date of meeting: 2 February 2023

A period of not more than fifteen minutes shall be allowed for questions submitted by a member of the public who either lives or works in the area of the authority at each ordinary meeting of the Council.

Every question shall be put and answered without discussion, but the person to whom a question has been put may decline to answer. The person who asked the question may ask one relevant supplementary question, which shall be put and answered without discussion.

The following written questions have been received from members of the public.

1. QUESTION From: Lynda Pickworth:

I live off the High Street in Rottingdean. We are lucky to have public transport close, however I do need to use my car to visit my parents, who have Alzheimer's/mobility issues. With or without the planter, the volume of traffic makes it very difficult to exit and enter our site safely. Please would you consider repainting the Keep Clear sign outside Denes Mews to help myself and fellow residents/local businesses/trades/delivery drivers. It would not cost much and would make our lives so much easier and would improve the safety of fellow travellers on the High Street outside the Mews.

Councillor Davis / Hills, Joint Chair of the Environment, Transport & Sustainability Committee will reply.

2. QUESTION From: Ron White:

Could the chairs of the ETS committee please let me know how much of the £29m Bus services improvement funding is been spent to improve bus shelters?

Councillor Davis / Hills, Joint Chair of the Environment, Transport & Sustainability Committee will reply.

3. QUESTION From John Hewitt:

Can the Leader of the Council confirm that there will be no out-of-hours noise service (noise complaints made over the weekends) for the residents of the city if the field officer positions are scrapped?

Councillor Mac Cafferty, Leader of the Council will reply.

4. QUESTION From: David Walker:

Charging Local Charities to use parks

I am a member of the Rottingdean and Saltdean Lions. Every year we put on events in Saltdean Oval Park and Rottingdean Green for the local community's enjoyment and to raise money that helps local people in need. This year we have been told we must pay £200 per event. How can the Council see us as an income stream? Both our events are on open spaces which numerous people using every day, and one for regular football training and matches, how is our event likely to cause significantly more damage requiring costly rectification?

Councillor Davis / Hills, Joint Chair of the Environment, Transport & Sustainability Committee will reply.

5. QUESTION From Tristram Burden:

Brighton and Hove buses were proposing to cut the frequency of the number 18 bus in half and change the route so it no longer goes to Brighton Station and 7 dials. This would have had a hugely negative impact on local residents, in particular pregnant women, older people and residents living in hilly areas.

Can the council confirm their support for the number 18, and can residents get assurance from the council that they will subsidise the 18 if it's threatened again?

Councillor Davis / Hills, Joint Chair of the Environment, Transport & Sustainability Committee will reply.

6. QUESTION From Gloria Elliot:

Post-pandemic, how is BHCC supporting the rejuvenation of devastated local businesses by making Brighton and Hove a go-to shopping and tourism destination once more?

Councillor Osborne / Powell, Joint Chair of the Tourism, Equalities, Communities & Culture Committee will reply.

7. QUESTION From David Lane:

Are there any plans to reopen the seafront toilets for the busy summer tourist season?

Councillor Davis / Hills, Joint Chair of the Environment, Transport & Sustainability Committee will reply.

8. QUESTION From Laura King:

What public demand was Brighton and Hove City Council answering when it decided to embark on an extensive programme of gender-neutralising school toilets across Brighton and Hove over the past 18 months?

Councillor Allbrooke, Chair of the Children, Young People & Skills Committee will reply.

9. QUESTION From Peter Anthony:

How much grant money has Brighton & Hove City Council received from central government in the last 10 years? Please include current applications that are anticipated to succeed.

Councillor Mac Cafferty, Leader of the Council will reply.

10. QUESTION From David Bushell:

In the document 'Budget Strategy 2023-4' presented to the Policy and Resources committee, the Council identifies areas to make savings including by closing public toilets. However next to the line item 'Member expenses £1.043 million' it says 'no savings proposed'. Why is the Council prepared to close public toilets but not prepared to cut members allowances?

Councillor Mac Cafferty, Leader of the Council will reply.

11. QUESTION From Nigel Furness:

How much did the design, production and distribution of the Mayor's Christmas card cost, which included a commissioned drawing of the Mayor but did not mention the word Christmas?

The Mayor, will reply.

12. QUESTION From Emma Wall:

Does Brighton and Hove City Council ever revisit or reverse a committee decision they have made?

Councillor Mac Cafferty, Leader of the Council will reply.

13. QUESTION From David Wilson:

Making Saltdean Beach a blue flag beach

We are proud that Saltdean beach has a seaside award. What additional facilities need to be provided to qualify for blue beach status?

Councillor Davis / Hills, Joint Chair of the Environment, Transport & Sustainability Committee will reply.

14. QUESTION From Kate Brown:

Public Toilets in Saltdean Oval Park

I am here representing Saltdean United Football Club. Our junior teams (aged 5 to 11) train and play matches in Saltdean Oval Park for 8 months of the year during the week and at weekends. If the toilets close, then our boys and girls - and spectators - will use the bushes. They won't walk to the closest one on Saltdean Undercliff. Please would you find the money to keep these toilets open.

Councillor Davis / Hills, Joint Chair of the Environment, Transport & Sustainability Committee will reply.

15. QUESTION From Gary Ayling:

This Council has spent time officially declaring a climate emergency; a cost of living emergency; and a mental health emergency among others. It has also voted on nuclear weapons twice and spent time debating international issues such as Roe vs Wade. Is there any prospect that, if re-elected, the Administration would focus on any of the service functions that the City Council is actually responsible for?

Councillor Mac Cafferty, Leader of the Council will reply.

16. QUESTION From Stephen White:

BHCC Council officers have been in negotiations with the Berkeley Group about their gigantic planning application for the East Brighton gasworks site (BH2021/04167) for more than three years yet after so much private discussion the application is in direct violation of a multitude of the stipulations laid out in the City Plan. Do our planning officers not have any duty to offer guidance to developers about what is, or is not, likely to be considered acceptable, or at least within the tolerances of the city plan to avoid wasting the developers' time and arousing so many anxieties of local residents?

Councillor Littman, Chair of the Planning Committee will reply.

17. QUESTION From Janis Sharp:

Saltdean Tennis Club is hoping to take responsibility for the maintenance of four courts in Saltdean Park from BHCC who have said they no longer have funds to maintain them. Our business plan relies on revenue from players who are not, and do not want to be, members of the club and so won't have access to the toilets in the clubhouse.

Closing the public toilets by the courts will have a noticeable and negative effect on our income and I am here to ask you find the money to keep these toilets open.

Councillor Davis / Hills, Joint Chair of the Environment, Transport & Sustainability Committee will reply.

Subject: Deputations from members of the public.

Date of meeting: 2 February 2023

A period of not more than fifteen minutes shall be allowed at each ordinary meeting of the Council for the hearing of deputations from members of the public. Each deputation may be heard for a maximum of five minutes following which one Member of the council, nominated by the mayor, may speak in response. It shall then be moved by the mayor and voted on without discussion that the spokesperson for the deputation be thanked for attending and its subject matter noted.

Notification of one Deputation has been received. The spokesperson is entitled to speak for 5 minutes.

As we enter the 4th Year of the 2030 Carbon Neutral Programme, your monitoring report says Year 1 (2020) underperformed very badly and we know that the following year will perform even worse, as it will benefit less from 2020's big carbon reduction windfall from Covid-19 lockdowns.

You would naturally ask

- How big was the 2020 Covid-19 windfall?
- How bad was the underlying performance?
- Was the problem area Industry, Domestic, Transport or all three?
- What needs to be done to get the Programme on track?
- Why did the monitoring report not answer these questions?
- Why did it take so long to report a 2020 problem?

Though we now have official figures to show the 9.5% reduction was much less than the reduction due to Covid-19, other questions cannot be answered because the Programme lacks targets for individual areas and does not quantify the gains from planned policies.

Giving a High rating to a policy that tackles 500 tonnes of the 923,000 tonnes to eliminate, shows the lack of rigour and transparency in prioritising actions.

In order to meet the aims of the council that voted unanimously for 2030 Carbon Neutral, an emergency independent stocktake is essential, to identify the shortfalls in the Programme and prioritise the necessary remedial actions in a rigorous and transparent manner.

With regard to the proposed public toilet closures, while many individuals – and in some cases businesses – across the city would be detrimentally affected, we believe that for one particular group these proposals are actually discriminatory and if implemented will be highly prejudicial to their wellbeing. There may be no statutory duty to provide such facilities, as the council repeatedly states, but we argue there is a humanitarian duty to do so.

This deputation speaks on behalf of those people with disabilities, often hidden, that require ready access to toilet facilities. Below are some actual lived experiences of hidden disabilities, representing a tiny fraction of those likely to be impacted within our city.

Lucy has Irritable Bowel Syndrome with chronic diarrhoea. This is what her recent day trip to London from Brighton involved:

- At least 4 weeks before, stopped drinking alcohol so my bowel could calm down.
- No dinner the night before.
- Breakfast on day: ½ slice of toast and 1 inch of tea. Go to loo at friend's, walk to Brighton station, go to loo, panic about train toilets.
- Arrive in London, head to venue, queue for toilet. After the show, go to a restaurant to use their loo.
- Return on 8pm train. EATING AND DRINKING NOTHING ALL DAY except sips from a bottle of water.

Oliver, aged 5, has recently been diagnosed with Coeliac disease, and the tiniest grain of gluten makes him very ill very quickly. In the back of the car, overhearing his mum and nan discussing the proposed toilet closures, he stated indignantly: “No, they can't close them because when my tummy is upset, I really need the toilet because I have issues!”

Nicky says: I have a permanent ileostomy stoma since my colon and rectum were removed due to cancer. I am learning to live with a permanent change to the way my body works and having to use a prosthetic device (a stoma bag). Confidence is something that takes a knock when you have surgery like this. Having access to a public toilet is of utmost importance to anyone with a stoma to be able to live, work and participate in our surroundings. The proposed closures will inhibit my ability to go about a normal life, and I will be unable to enjoy a full integration into the community. I already have anxiety about leaving my home, for fears of my bag leaking in public (which is messy and smelly!).

Nicky's cancer, Crohn's disease, Ulcerative Colitis and other conditions can all lead to an ileostomy, colostomy, or urostomy. My ileostomy resulted from a perforated bowel caused by diverticular disease.

An ileostomy is a stoma that exits from the small bowel and the large bowel is not used at all (unlike a colostomy which exits from your large bowel). Your large bowel reabsorbs water and nutrients from what you eat and drink, and so the output from an ileostomy is not like a normal stool but is actually very liquid (it can be like water) and pretty constant. Your bag fills up very quickly and can need emptying as often as every hour or even half hour. You can never forget it is there and you are constantly patting it to see if it is getting full and needs emptying. You are always thinking ahead to the next toilet and where it is. You are filled with fear and dread if you think you may not reach it in time.

We acknowledge that if what we have described is not your own lived experience, you may not have understood just how utterly dependent some people are on public toilets. What we've described is a fraction of what people live with; it happens to be our own lived experiences. Please don't let lack of knowledge or understanding lead to enforcing something that is clearly discriminatory and prejudicial to the wellbeing of so many. Please don't force us and others like us to stay home because we simply do not dare to venture out into our home city.

“Over the next few years we are investing £3 million to refurbish public toilets across the city. We will start Phase 1 of the programme once the summer season is over. This will allow us to keep public toilets open throughout the city's busiest time of year...The council has secured £330,000 from the government, that has been match funded with £95,500 from the council to increase the number of Changing Places Facilities in the city too. “ [July 2021]

“Cllr Nemeth said: “The city-wide closures of public toilets we are seeing is solely a consequence of the administration’s public toilet insourcing policy. This policy change was completely unnecessary, given that the city had a ten-year private contract for cleaning and maintaining the city’s public toilet blocks which had five years left to run. We must remember that all public toilets were open while this contract was running. The administration’s policy of cancelling this contract and setting up its own service has completely failed and led to the collapse of a basic service. Had this policy not been pursued, all public toilets would currently be open.””

The Purpose of the speech is to request the city council reinstates funding, which is currently under threat of being cut from the budget.

- Introduction to the Early Childhood Project charity.
- What we do and why we do it. “We believe all children have the right to develop in a positive environment, free from prejudice and discrimination. We work to combat bias and promote equalities and inclusion in services for young children by offering support, information and resources to families and those working with them.”
- Why parents like what we do:
 - We give support and information about play and parenting
 - Children can borrow toys and books to use at home
 - Less waste, eco friendly
 - Families are financially disadvantaged, our service free
 - We sign post to other services families may need but not know about
- Commissioned work undertaken by the Early Childhood Project for BHCC.
- The proposed cut to our annual funding is £11.5k for commissioned work and £9890 for the annual toy library grant.

We respectfully request that the Council reconsiders making this cut and reinstates the £9890 toy library grant to enable the charity to continue to deliver this crucial, core service.

Thank you.

Concerned residents of Westdene (including members of the Westdene School Streets Residents Group, the Withdean and Westdene Local Action Team, and other members of the community) have requested that an independent review is undertaken by the Local Government Association on the methodology and resultant actions imposed on local residents by the Westdene school streets initiative taken by the Brighton and Hove City Council.

This is because residents have raised concerns starting from the 'Westdene school streets taster day', and the subsequent information, lobbying, biased and limited consultation, design, impact, and actual implementation of this initiative, which went live on 22nd December 2022. Residents feel they have been ignored and at times vilified by local councillors and the council when seeking proper consultation and raising legitimate concerns.

Examples of concerns include (but are not limited to): Westdene school streets not meeting the school streets aims and objectives because it diverts traffic to queue outside the main school entrance; failure to include safe crossing points and traffic management in surrounding streets; the introduction of a permanent one way street under the guise of school streets, that increases the risk of speed and more serious accidents 24/7 alongside the communities main green space and play area, a risk independent auditors raised concerns about, but local traffic officers chose to ignore, resulting in no physical traffic calming, and increased speed.

As acknowledged by last weeks standards committee Brighton and Hove city council has a credibility and reputation issue, and it rapidly needs to rebuild confidence in its conduct, processes, and how it is prioritising the use of tax payers money.

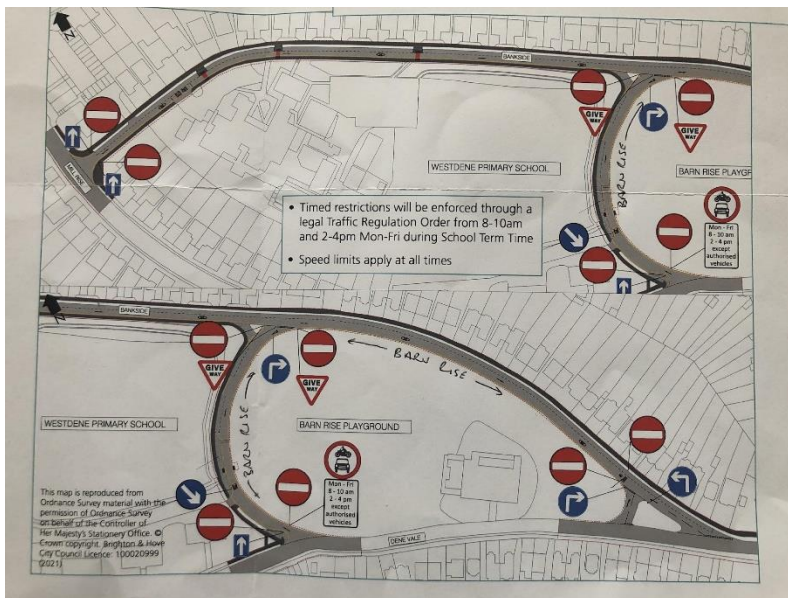

We are in no doubt with the investment available a solution that met the objectives of reducing congestion, pollution, and increasing safety and active travel was, and is possible. Instead we have a very expensive solution that fails to meet those objectives, has damaged the communities confidence in this council, and become an unnecessarily divisive community concern.

(5) Deputation concerning Get Me Home Safely Spokesperson – Megan De Meo

Supported by:

Hugo Beynon

Get Me Home Safely is a national campaign which started after one of our members, a bar worker, worked a late shift. Her employer failed to provide her with a safe route home, her bus was canceled, and she was sexually assaulted in the town center of Glasgow.

This is not uncommon, instances like this happen everywhere and they are happening in Brighton. I am often harassed in the city center after a shift, and I know this happens to my friends and my colleagues as well. Unite surveyed hospitality staff on this issue and found that 60% of workers in the industry had been sexually harassed during or after a shift. I have spent the last few weeks going into workplaces, talking to bar staff and hospitality workers. I have heard stories about women walking home in unsafe places in the middle of the night: midnight, 1am, 3am through Brighton city center.

There are two aspects that make hospitality workers vulnerable in regards to this, low pay and gender based violence.

We are the lowest paid workers in the economy. We can't afford to spend our wages on a taxi home. I have spoken to workers at a workplace where their shifts have been cut down to 4 hours. They finish at 3am and have to figure out whether they can afford to spend an hours wage on a taxi. With hours being cut to this extent, whilst bills and prices are soaring, it's a decision that is becoming harder to make.

We all know that gender based violence is an issue in our society. We all know that women experience sexual harassment and violence. Few know this better than women who work in bars, where we are routinely harassed by customers. We then have to experience this on the way home, without the relative safety that comes from our co-workers and security. If we are serious about tackling this we need to use every power we can to address the issue.

Our employers know that this problem is widespread. Rather than acting on it, businesses are choosing profit over the safety of their staff. We should and do expect employers to be responsible for staff welfare but this responsibility should not end when the shift ends- it ends when staff are at home and as safe as they can be.

I have spoken to bar staff who work in a venue that extended its opening hours so that shifts ended at 5am. They did so without consulting staff, without checking if their employees had a safe way of getting home at that time. We need to re-assess the licensing to ensure that businesses take responsibility for the safety of their staff. The council currently grants licenses for pubs to stay open late but does not take into account how this affects us as workers.
