FOR GENERAL RELEASE

1 SUMMARY AND POLICY CONTEXT

- 1.1 The report provides feedback on some significant events during 2012 and is requesting permission for officers to start working with the organisers of Pride 2013 towards obtaining Landlord's consent seeking a change of location from previous years.

2 RECOMMENDATIONS

- 2.1 That the Committee note the review of highlights of events for 2012 and the attached appendix summarising all the events of 2012.
- 2.2 That the committee authorises officers to enter into discussions with the organisers of Pride in the development of a formal request to this committee in January for Landlord's consent to use Madeira Drive, subject to all conditions being met.

3 RELEVANT BACKGROUND INFORMATION/CHRONOLOGY OF KEY EVENTS

- 3.1 In recent previous Cabinet Member and Committee cycles, there has been a meeting scheduled for December. This has been the point at which an Events report has been brought to request Landlord's consent for a year's worth of events. With the earlier schedule this year, two reports will be brought to Committee in January in addition to this one requesting permission on events to be held on Madeira Drive and for events in other parks and open spaces for 2013.
- 3.2 Summary review of 2012
- 3.2.1 There was a total of nearly 300 events again for 2012 of a range of scales and size. In terms of major events, the 3rd Brighton Marathon in April was again very successful. The number of young people in the mini mile event nearly doubled and with just over 9,000 people entering the main event, this was the biggest day of running in the city to date. The event has got onto the map in quite a short space of time, already attracting runners from other international marathons. The credibility of the event has grown with new course records set both for men and women and Channel 4 is on board for next year to cover the race.

- 3.2.2 With 2012 being the year of the Diamond Jubilee and the London 2012 Olympics and Paralympics, it was always going to be a year of intense activity in the city.
- 3.2.3 The Diamond Jubilee weekend was very successful for Brighton and Hove, despite some unsettled weather, with 65 Street parties across the city in the end and a range of picnics and walks. Three ceremonial Beacons were lit along the coast at Hove, Brighton and Rottingdean locations and they will be included in a national publication to mark the occasion. There were picnics and walks and other community events involving people of all ages and the local paper published a special insert of photos to mark the occasion.
- 3.2.4 The city was fortunate to host the Olympic Torch as it travelled around the country and came to Brighton and Hove in July. The Sussex Cricket Ground event was ticketed for an audience of 10,000. The public response to claim tickets for this event was overwhelming, with all tickets being collected within 2 hours. It is estimated that just over 75,000 people lined the streets of Hove to welcome the Torch to the city on Monday evening and 20,000 waved the Torch past as it made its way out from the Royal Pavilion early on Tuesday morning.
- 3.2.5 Another notable event linked to the London 2012 Olympics was the Big Beach Screen positioned on the seafront for the duration of the Olympics. Despite the variable weather, the Big Beach Screen was very successful and really well enjoyed by the thousands who came.
- 3.2.6 Due to the timings of the Olympics, Brighton and Hove Pride changed its annual date from the first Saturday in August to the first Saturday in September for 2012. This was the second year of the event being fenced and ticketed up at Preston Park and it was run this year by a new organisation formed for the purpose. The event was widely held to be a success, in particular from a health and safety perspective; detailed debrief meetings were held with emergency services, police, security and all council services involved in the weeks following the event. The overall conclusions of these were very positive. There were 57 entries in the parade and 30,000 at the ticketed park event and a donation of £31k from ticket sales was made to local LGBT charities. A further £40k has been secured from the event for seed funding for the event in 2013.
- 3.2.7 There have been a number of challenges and some tragedy which must also be noted in this summary review.

There was a fatality at the annual Speed Trials event held on Madeira Drive which is under investigation at the time of writing this report and a near drowning at the last Christmas Swim event. All of these events will be scrutinised by the Safety Advisory Group in more detail for next year and the Safety Advisory Group Members are already talking to the organisers of these events to understand the causes and to work to manage out future risk.

Some of the additional challenges faced are due to issues of capacity and resources. With an ever increasing number of events coming to the city, we are stretching our resources to the limit to accommodate the range and quantity of the programme. The issue of resources is not one faced solely by the city council, our partners with whom we work closely on events in the city such as the police, ambulance and fire services, are also facing difficult economic times and having to charge back at an increasing level to event organisers.

3.3 2013 programme

3.3.1 For 2013 the events calendar returns to normality with major events not having to be moved to work around the opening of the AMEX in 2011, and the Olympics in 2012. As noted above, further reports will be brought to committee for the necessary permissions on the detailed event calendar for 2013 in January when that detail is available.

3.3.2 Pride 2013

There is a request from Pride for a change of location which is worth noting at this point given the amount of time that will be needed to develop the necessary plans. This request is therefore included in this report. Officers would work with the organisers of Pride to bring a more detailed report for Landlord's consent as part of the Madeira Drive closures report in January.

Although Pride was clearly a successful event for 2012, if the weather had been bad, then it would not have been. The longer term sustainability of the event relies on finding a business model that does not rely so heavily on the weather and can provide enough in the way of pre-sales to cover the significant costs of the necessary infrastructure.

The organisers have approached the council to request that the event be held over a two day period at Madeira Drive. The Parade preceding the event, would also have to change its route – to begin and then to circle round to end at Madeira Drive. The rationale for this request is for a number of reasons:

- the infrastructure costs could potentially be lower,
- the event would attract more passing trade and
- the city's retail, restaurants, bars and hospitality sector would be more likely to benefit over the whole period of the weekend.

The organisers have made comparisons with the running of Pride in Manchester, where a whole street is closed off and ticket buyers are able to come in and out of the site over the two day period with a simple wristband system. This event as a consequence has a different and calmer dynamic; the event is spread out over a longer period of time and not packed into a 7 or 8 hour slot.

There is a great deal of work to do in terms of the event plan and organisation to achieve a workable Pride on Madeira Drive and a change to the Parade route which is why this request is being brought at this early stage. The idea has already been floated with the safety services and feedback requested. To date there have been no significant objections, although universal acknowledgement that the work to produce the event plan will have to be detailed and thorough and the more time that can be given to that the better.

4 COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AND CONSULTATION

- 4.1 Community engagement and consultation is built into every major event plan and into some of the smaller events as well. This takes the form of attendance at community or Local Action Team meetings in some cases, the distribution of printed material door to door and the publication of notices in the local press and on websites.

5 FINANCIAL & OTHER IMPLICATIONS

5.1 Financial Implications

Target income for chargeable Outdoor Events in 2012/13 is £213k and is currently forecast on target. Income achieved in 2011/12 was £219k compared to a target budget of £209k.

The financial implications arising from recommendation 2.2 will be reported to a future Committee when the plans are further developed. The negotiations will take into account the requirements of the Outdoor Events Policy and the emerging budget strategy.

Finance Officer Consulted: Michelle Herrington Date: 30th October 2012

5.2 Legal Implications

There are none to refer to at this time, but any legal implications arising from incidents, such as those referred to in 3.2.7 of this report, may be referred to in subsequent reports and will be taken into account by officers when administering the council's events policies.

Lawyer Consulted: Bob Bruce, Principal Solicitor Date: 16th October 2012

5.3 Equalities Implications

Many of the events supported as part of the city's annual events programme summarised at appendix one are free and open access. Some of the events such as those highlighted in the review paragraphs above have targeted activities within them to ensure wide participation and engagement.

The report also covers the preliminary request for a change of venue for the city's annual Pride event. Pride is a key event in the LGBT calendar and the event itself made a significant financial contribution to LGBT charities this year.

5.4 Sustainability Implications

We are working to ensure that the environmental implications and impacts of the major events are managed properly.

5.5 Crime & Disorder Implications

Part of the rationale for the request from the organisers of Pride to relocate to Madeira Drive is for the better management of the crime and disorder implications around the entire event.

5.6 Risk and Opportunity Management Implications

Risk and opportunity management is built into each major event plan.

5.7 Corporate / Citywide Implications

The city's annual calendar of events impacts across the entire city. The impact of Pride is also citywide; by placing the event more centrally in the city centre, that impact may be more positively managed.

5.8 Public Health and Wellbeing Implications

There are positive public health and wellbeing implications in many of the city's events that encourage and increase active participation, engagement, a positive sense of community spirit and volunteering at a large and small scale.

6 EVALUATION OF ANY ALTERNATIVE OPTION(S)

- 6.1 The evaluation of alternative options for locating the Pride event is what this report is recommending.

7 REASONS FOR REPORT RECOMMENDATIONS

- 7.1 The city's events calendar is extremely full and extremely successful across the year. Our events programme is a major part of what the city is known and admired for. It is key that the extent of the programme is recognised and noted by committee.
- 7.2 In terms of the recommendation around the change of location for Pride; this is a process that will take considerable time, planning, consultation and negotiation so the report is requesting permission to start this in good time.
